

YANKEES OR MARLINS: The BEST Baseball Team

Trap

Dennis from Lake Worth had some crazy idea the New York Yankees may not be the best team in baseball this year or in the history of baseball. Being a lifelong resident of the State of Florida he would occasionally tease and ridicule one particular friend who just happened to be a devoted diehard Yankee Fan. Whenever the Yankees lost a game, Dennis would torment this Yankees Super Fan unmercifully about the loss.

Tips

When this unidentified Yankees Super Fan is approached by Dennis, he should provide the following facts that support the Yankees' undisputable place in history as the best team in all team sports.

- The Yankees have won 27 World Series Championships by far the most in baseball and all team sports.
- The Yankees have by far the most players in the Baseball Hall of fame.
- The Yankees have the most dedicated fans in baseball. The team always outdraws all other teams in yearly attendance at games.
- The Florida Marlins, who just happen to be Dennis' favorite of all baseball teams, continually have just about the worst attendance of fans at games. The team averages approximately 2,000 fans per game compared to the Yankees average of 45,000.
- Admittedly, the above attendance ratio is not always accurate: the Marlins have actually had games with approximately 45,000 in attendance at games, but, perhaps they were not all fans?
- The problem with the above statement is that the Marlins were playing the Yankees and 99% of the fans at the game were Yankee fans.
