Internship Program Admissions

Briefly describe in narrative form important information to assist potential applicants in assessing their likely fit with your program. This description must be consistent with the program's policies on intern selection and practicum and academic preparation requirements:

The Doctoral Internship at the Youth Services Department is offered through the Youth Services Department's Residential Treatment and Family Counseling Division, which offers specialized programs for families who need professional support in their efforts to raise healthy functioning children. The Division is committed to fostering healthy individual and family functioning in families where youth have been identified as "at-risk" for entering the juvenile justice system, dropping out of school, getting involved with gangs, running away from home, substance use, and entering the child protective system. The intern's clinical activities will emphasize family therapy using a brief therapy model, but may include group and individual therapy, psychoeducation, parent training, psychological evaluation, consultative services, and community outreach offered across community-based, office, and residential settings. Each intern will complete a six month residential rotation and a six month outpatient rotation, which together provide a range of clinical and didactic experiences that will support interns in the development of their base of knowledge, their clinical skills, and their professional identity.
